

KOHLER® OnCue Home Generator Management System

Giving you complete control of your KOHLER® home generator, OnCue is the industry's first standby generator remote management system that doesn't require presence in the home. No other system empowers the homeowner with this level of complete, user-friendly control. Whenever there is any generator activity at your home, OnCue will update you via email or text message – no matter where in the world you may be. So whether you're in Port-au-Prince, Portugal or Portland, you'll be able to monitor any activity. Should your system require service,

OnCue will notify either you or your Kohler dealer. Ideal for frequent travelers or those who own second homes, the OnCue system is bringing peace of mind into the new millennium.
